

Instructions for my Funeral Mass

Esgobaeth Wrecsam

To be freely available in the Diocese

Some believers may not fear death but, like many others, put off thinking about it. A funeral is often handled in distress, disinterest or in haste, and as a result in a manner which doesn't reflect the wishes of the one who has died.

Fill in whatever details you wish from these instructions to enable you to have your own say in your funeral and over your body.

Far from being morbid, this approach is both a courtesy and a responsibility.

You are advised to share the existence of this document with family or a trusted friend and place it where it might easily be found after your death.
